THE COLONIAL BALL.

A GRAND SOCIAL EVENT AT THE HOME OF THOMAS JEFFERSON.

dredth Anniversary of the Land og of Columbus-Albemarle Daughters of the American Revolution.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 12.—The grand Colonial ball, which has been the subject of conversation for the past month in high social circles of this city and the State, was held to-night at "ye habytacion of Monticello, ye earthlie home of Th. Jefferson-ye four-hundredth anniversary of ye landing of Columbus in America." It was held under the auspices of "ye Albe-marle Chapter of ye Daughters of ye Amerimarle Chapter of ye Daughters of ye American Revolution," and it was by the generous permission of the Hon. Jefferson M. Levy, the owner of this historic spot, that the ball was held here.

Along the winding drive from this the "Citye of Queene Charlotte" (for whom this ancient town was named, up the mountain side are hung many Japanese lanterns, and the lawns are festooned with them, lending a charming scene to the already beautifui night. This successful arrangement was due to the good judgment of Mr. Henry L. Lyman, who lives just at the foot of Monticelio.

The exterior of the mansion presents a lovely scene lighted with many astraliamps, such as are used in the fee-night illuminations of the palace-grounds at Versailles, which were brought here by Mr. Levy the past summer. Wax candles furnish the light within, and the scene is one long to be remembered by all who are present. Of the Albemarle Chapter Mrs. Roger A. Pryor and Mrs. Augustus Drewry are honorary State regents; Mrs. William Wirt Henry, State regent, and Mrs. F. Berger Moran, of Charlottesville, a descendant of Washington, is regent, and among the prominent members are Mrs. Paul Barringer, Mrs. R. T. W. Duke, Jr., Mrs. M. W. Humpbrevs, Miss Virginia Long, Mrs. Frank A. Massie, Mrs. Henry B. Michie, Mrs. Rayard Randolph, Mrs. William M. Thornton, Mrs. Villiam B. Towles, Mrs. Albert H. Tuttle, and Mrs. Micajah Woods. The patronesses of the ball to-night are Mrs. Frank Brown, Mrs. J. R. Bryan, Mrs. Woah K. Davis, Mrs. Frank Gilmer, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Horace Jones, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, Mrs. Lizzie Gunther, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Horace Jones, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, Mrs. F. W. Mallet, Mrs. Robert Mason, Mrs. Froederick Page, Mrs. Greene Peyton, Mrs. George Rives, Mrs. William J. Robertson, Mrs. Thomas L. Rosser, Mrs. H. R. Whitmore, Mrs. Warner Wood, Mrs. Burthe, and Mrs. Howard Perkinson. Howard Perkinson HOST AND HOSTESS.

Mr. Levy and his mother, Mrs. J. P.
Levy, are the host and hostess on this long to be remembered occasion. The hall and grand salon, the scene of to-night's brilliant ball, are worthy of short mention. The former is two stories in height, and is fitted up in an elegant manner. The walls are adorned by family portraits of four generations of Levys—one of the portraits by Sir Joshua Revnolds, one by Van Dyke, the others by artists of equal note. Here, too, are a bust of Jefferson by David, one of Franklin by Power, and one of Hamiltons hall is a gallery, and it was there Weber's Band, of Washington, discoursed excellent music to-night.

THE COSTUMES.

A more effective setting for a Colonial ball could not be desired.
Forming in the grand salon, the groups marched into the hall in this order:

THE MINUET. These groups formed in the great hall, presenting a beatiful picture, while Gene-ral Fitzbugh Lee delivered a short address ral Fitzbugh Lee delivered a short address of welcome from the music-gallery and then declaimed the Declaration of Independence, after which the unnuct-dancers, who had withdrawn during the declamation, danced into the hall, making stately obeisances to the thriteen original States. The formal reception of guests followed, and after it the dancing became general, being led by the minuct-dancers.

NOTABLE GONES NOTABLE GOWNS.

Among the notable gowns worn to-night was the dress in which Mrs. Judge Bushrod Washington (to whom Mt. Vernon descended), a great-annt of Mrs. F. Berger Moran (the regent of the Albemarle chapter), danced the minuet. This valuable and antique ball costume descended to Mrs. Moran, by whom it was permitted to be worn on this grand occasion.

Electric Line-Mr. Smith's Promotion.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]
Radrozo, Va., October 11.—The City Council last night released the Radford Street-Railway Company from the maintenance of eighteen inches of the street on either side of their rond-bed and thereby secured the immediate construction of an electric street railway, that being agreed to by the company in case the Council would remove that restriction in the franchise. The road will be finished by January 1st. by January 1st.

The preliminary hearing of C. H. Yost, charged with burning his saddlery store, was yesterday postponed until the 20th. A GRAND BALLY.

To-night the New-River Democrats held their great relly. Mayor H. C. Preston, of this city, addressed them. The leading Democrats in that precinct are determined to put to rest the Republican claims to that place.

Mr. R. E. Smith, who for two years has occupied the position of road foreman of engineers on the Pulaski Division, Norfolk and Western railroad, will leave Radford to-day to accept the place of superintendent of the company's repair shops in Norfolk. This is a deserved promotion, which his many friends here are glad to see. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be much missed.

The St. Alban's foot-ball team will play the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College on the 22d instant. A game with Roanok College will probably be stranged for the 21st, "Columbus-Day." They hope to play Pantops Academy in Lynchburg on thanksgiving.

STREET-CAR LINE EXTENSION. At a meeting of the directors of the Danville Street-Car Company to-day an order was entered directing that the work of extending the line towards Reservoir Park be begun at once. The extension will be from the terminus of the line on south Main street across the property of the Mt. Vernon Villa Company to a point on weat Main street, and thence to the nark.

A white Republican has been here to day copying the registration-books.

THE GEORGIA ELECTION. Vote of the State, 200,000-Peck's Vote, 65,000-Northen's, 135,000.

65,000—Northea's, 135,000.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

ATLANTA, GA., October 12.—It is impossible to obtain the official aunouncement of last Wednesday's election until the returns are canvassed by the Legislature, which meets on the 25th of this month. The returns from every county are sent here in a scaled envelope, and can only be opened by the Legislature.

The Constitution's estimate, already published, is the closest estimate that can be made of the official vote. It semi-officially shows from precinct counts on the night of the election that the majority will be 70,000. This estimate shows that the vote of the State was 200,000; of which Peck, the Third-party candidate for Governor, received 66,000, and Northen (Democrat) 135,000.

The official announcement will not change these figures materially, but it cannot be obtained before the 27th of October, when the Legislature will canvass the returns, which are now sealed and under lock and key.

JUDGE ANDREWS NOMINATED. New York's Democratic Choice for Appel

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

New Yors, October 12.—The Democratic State Committee met to-day at the Hoffman House to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals. The name of Judge Charles F. Andrews was placed before the committee by William B. Kirk, of Syracuse, and seconded by W. Bourke Cockran on behalf of Tammany Hall. Judge Andrews's nomination was also seconded by District-Attorney Ridgeway on behalf of the Kings County Democracy. Mr. Ridgeway mado a speech referring to the fact that Judge Andrews was nominated by the Democrate in 1884. The nomination was then made unanimous.

A letter was read from Judge Wheeler H. Peckham, who was himself a candidate for the office. In this letter Judge Peckham stated that if the Republicans had decided to recognize Judge Andrews's twenty years of service on the bench by nominating him the Democrats could not do better than endorse him. young man who had been a tenant on Peeple's place about two years ago. Peeple had been at Birmingham Saturday and that afternoon went home on the accommodation train. Between the station and his house he was accosted by William Brasswell, who engaged him in conversation while William Brandon came up and deliberately shot him. Brasswell and Brandon flourished their pistols in the face of the bystanders and disappeared in the woods. The only motive ascribed for the act is that while Brasswell was a tenant on Peeple's place his wife and the old man had a difficulty, in which the womaa

> CHATTANOGGA. TENN., October 12.—M. J. O'Brien, formerly one of the most prominent citizens of Chattanogga, and who was under indictment for the embezziement of $76,000 from the benevolent order of the Catholic Knights of America, was arrested in Philadelphia Monday by officers of Hazer's Detective Agency, of Cincinnati. The offence was committed eighteen months ago. The prisoner is now on his way here over the Shenandonk-Valley rallroad, in charge of the officers. Detective Schlessinger, of Hazer's agency, has been in this city for two months, and by watching the movements of the prisoner's wife managed to locate him in New York, whence he made frequent trips to Philadelphia on the fast train. Sunday a message was received by the police here asking for special authority to make the arrest. It was sent, with the result mentioned. O'Brien moved in good society and was considered a substantial man. Embezzier O'Brien in the Tolis.

Colonel James D. Brady is discussed at length in this address, the animus of which is very plain. He is pronounced a traitor to the Republican party and a spy in the Republican household. Langston's "rump convention" at Burkeville is reviewed at length and condemned without qualification. Of Mr.
S. Y. Gilliam, the nominee for Congress, the committee says that "he needs but little attention, will receive but little consideration, and will be the small boy at the froile." The address Intimates that Colonel J. Thomas Goode, the nominee of the Mahone Republicans of this district.
